Real Estate Litigation

Real estate transactions concerning residential or commercial property are oftentimes the more important financial decisions an individual or a family can make in their lifetime. The laws and statutes which govern these transactions are complicated and fraught with technical loopholes. While most real estate transactions go smoothly, unfortunately not all do. Should you find yourself in this difficult situation, we have extensive experience in providing aggressive yet common-sense litigation assistance for our clients. We have extensive experience in both prosecuting and defending Buyer/Seller disputes, title and ownership issues, construction defects, mortgage foreclosures, and lien foreclosures.

Our expertise in this area of practice is based not only on legal knowledge, but also on real-world experience in the industry. Mr. Tiseo, our primary real estate litigator, comes from a local family well known for its extensive background in general contracting. Mr. Tiseo's father and brother are local general contractors who have built homes in Southwest Florida for over 25 years. Mr. Tiseo is also an active member of the Charlotte-Desoto Builders Industry Association. This combination of real-world experience and legal knowledge allows Mr. Tiseo a unique and helpful perspective which best serves his valued clients.
